THE GRAND ARMY REUNION. The Coming Event to Eclipse All Pro

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Two weeks from yesterday the twenty-sixth grand encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will begin in this city. Preparations for the occasion have been made on a scale so grand that it will eclipse all previous reunions of the organization. One great feature of the ganization. One great feature of the whole affair and one to which considerable historical interest is attached will be the review in which the veterans taking part will march over the same route they covered in 1965, when same rouse they covered in 1800, when peace had been proclaimed after four years of war, and 300,000 boys in blue celebrated the occasion by marching in their tattered uniforms up Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the White house. The review of twentyseven years ago consumed the better part of three days, but that of this year has been so arranged that by marching in double columns the survivors will be

The formal opening will take place Monday, September 19, on the grounds surrounding the Washington monument, which have been christened "Grand Army Place." President Harrison will make the opening speech, and there will be an address of welcome and one on tehalf of the Grand Army. Patriotic songs will be sung by trained vocalists.

The programme of entertainment includes a reception by the president, a reception at the capitol and a promendo reception in the pension office building where the Cleveland and Harrison mangural balls were held.

Grand Army Place will be the principal point of interest. There a huge facsimile of the ship Kearsarge, which sunk the Alabama, is in course of construction, and it will be manned by sailors who served on the vessel. Prominent among the attractive fer tures of the encomponents in the pas have been the reunions of survivers of the old army organizations. While these have been largely attended, it is now known that all previous records will be eclipsed at the Washington encampment. A beautiful and convenient site has been selected on which large tents will be nitched to These reunions will not be for one day done but will continue all the week alone, but will continue all the week-and day and night "Grand Army Place" will be made merry by camp fires. Nearly as possible all the survivors of those who fought under the leader-ship of Porter on the peninsula, Butter-field at Fredericksburg, the gallant Mende at Chancellorsville, Sikes at Gettysburg and Warren on the bloody felds of the Widerness and Spottfields of the Wilderness and Spott-sylvania, Petersburg and Five Forks, will come together in the re-union of the fifth crops. And the meeting of other corps will be fully as interesting. Nearly all of the surviving corps commanders will be present. The grasping of hands again by comrades so long separated, and the remin-lscences which their meeting will call out, will make each of these remains more interesting than the most thrilling work of fiction that could be penned.

Believes Lizzie Borden to be Insane. Was Formally Inaugurated in the Pres ence of an Interested Throng at Lemont, Ill., Last Saturday--A Terrific Explosion

Cricago, Ill., Sept. 5 .- At noon Saturday, near Lemont, about forty miles from this city, down the Desplaines valley, with all the formality and ceremony appropriate to so important an ovent, ground was broken for the great drainage canal, and the work of constructing the famous properties. structing the immense waterway be tween the great lakes and the Gulf Mexico is under way.

Mexico is under way.

Directly at the point where the center line of the main channel of the canal intersects the boundary between Will and Cook counties, on the very backbone of the "Chicago divide," President Frank Wentor, of the board of trustees of the saultary district of Chicago, thrust a nickel plated shovel into the carthand turned up the shovelful of sand and soil, while the assembled multitude shouted its applause.

This was the first act in the actual exeavation of the waterway, about execuation of the waterway, about which so much has been said and written during the last seven years. Thus was inaugurated an enterprise which will rank, when completed, with the most important of modern marvels of engineering. To witness the bookuring engineering. To witness the beginning of this mighty work were gathered prominent men from all parts of the state. There were officials from the capital and representative men from Cook county and Chicago. There were anyons and other high officers from the mayors and other high officers from the towns in the Illinois valley. There were engineers, judges and physicians, and well-known men from all professions.

After Mr. Wenter's effort came speech or two, and suddenly puffs of white smoke arose not far from the seene. Masses of earth and shattered rock flew skyward and fell in shower of debris. These reports were the dis charges of rock biasts and told the listeners that the stone backbone of the "Chicago divide" had yielded as

Then there was more speaking by members of the drainage board and other persons prominent in the work, and the exercises closed with an opennir sprend

THE PARADE IN DETAIL,

THE PARADE IN DETAIL.

The first division formed on Water street, right resting on Wood and embraced the following:
A platoon of police.
Spencer's Band of Peoria.
Peoria Union, No. 1, Tin Sheet Iron and Cornice Workers.
Tin, Sheet Iron, and Cornice Workers, Union No. 64, had 125 men in line and carrying a huge tin coffee pot among other designs.

The Painters and Decorators' Union, No. 248, with over 70 members in line, made a very handsome appearance. They were attired in a complete paintor's suit of snow-white Irish lines, and carried a bucket and duster. None presented a finer appearance than the painters did with their white uniforms. They carried a complete assortment of banners, one did will their white uniforms. They carried a complete assortment of bunners, among them the following: "Ready for Work," "A Fair Day's Wages for a Fair Day's Work." An outfit representing a seab painter caused a great deal of merriment all along the line. Charles Eagle represented the great positive seals have represented the scab painter, and he was painted and dabbed until his own folks could not recognize him. The make-up was original, and a severe take-off on non-union painters. This union also had a small house constructed on a wagon, pulled by four horses, and several work-men bury painting the col-pulled by four horses, and soveral workmen busy painting the job.

The Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters' Union, No. 65, with 20 journeymen and 12 helpers in line, presented a fine appearance with their cream silk eaches, gloves and twisted gas-pipe oanes. The members were preceded in the line by an monesse float representing their trade, the display consisting of a highly painted bath tob, sinks, steam heaters, water closets, gus futures and other plumbing apparatus. On the top of the wagon a fountain was running, which greatly pleased the children all along the line.
It was a very creditable trade display, and the union deserves much oradit.

The Plasterers' Union No. 103 were the next in the procession, 24 men in with a shocking accident.

It is learned that the dog found the man's head on Friday morning and brought it to the house in the absence of McKay. One of the men at the place took the human head and put on the fence where it was left until the coroner reached the place. McKay got home Sunday morning, and learning of the incident, immediately sent for the coroner. Sunday afternoon and to-day a systematic search was made for the body

The Bricklayers' and Masons' Union No. 13, had 48 members in line, and their uniform consisted of white overalls, striped shirt, gray hat, cane and small trowel. Preceding the members was a wagon carrying an un-inshed chimney, on which the masons were busily engaged in laying brick. Another wagon following close behind carried the mortar and brick and a number of hodoarriers.

The Federation Hod Carriers' Union No. 5351 had 76 men in line and they carried hose, hode and bnokets.

The International Hod Carriers' Union No. 4 followed in neat uniforms of blue overalls and striped shirts. They presented a neat appearance and had 80 men in line. Store.

Groodmu's band.

The Cigarmakers' Union No. 20, with their black straw hats, linen dusters, canes and sunflowers, made quite a hit. There were C5 men in line, besides 15 strippers. They each carried a one, and every member was emoking bis favorite Havana filled eigar as he paraded.

But the carth stopped moving when the Typographisal Union, No. 216 stepped forward to the music of the band. As one member remarked, "we look 'orange." Attorney Cyrus Randolph, of Chicago, was in the city over Sanday.

The Burbers' Union, No. 94, was well represented by a one-chair shaving outfit on a wagon, with barbor Diok Rohand shaving a man while the parade was ussing. 'The Bukere' Union, No. 151, with 14 members in line, presented a pleasing ap-pearance and their while suits and white pearance and their white suits and white aprons were spotless. Their appearance in the parade was very gratifying to the large crowd who were growing hungry waiting to view the procession.

The Tailors' Union No. 60, were the finest dreened gentlemen in the parade. They wore drees entits, with white vests, and carried silk umbrellas. The eight cutters were in carriages and included Jamee Vesle, T. F. Mulesdy, W. S. Greene, Ed. Denz. Samuel Wall, M. Otlow, L. A. Rude and Samuel Wood. Exciting Capture of One of the Professionals—Cornered in a Cel lar-way by L. N. Cope-Assault in the Jant.

This morning at 7:30 c'clock four prismers ascaped from the county jail. Tom Francis, one of the professional safeblowers and burglars who went through the residences of H. W. Bartholome and Mrs. J. G. Fish and Ottenheimer & the residences of H. W. Bartholomew and Mrs. J. G. Fish and Ottenheimer & Co.'s store, John Reed and Frank Smith, who were caught with stolen goods in their possession at the depot station, and Harry Bell, who stole a suit of clothes from a farm hand at the Allen farm it. Harristown township, were the parties who escaped.

There were 18 prisoners in the jeil, nine on the west side. In the west side group were Tom Francis, Reed, Smith and Bell. In the group on the east side were Charles Miller, the pal of Francis, and eight other prisoners. During last night or possibly at about three o'clock this morning Francis engineered the job of sawing the bars of one of the upper windows. Six iron bars were sawed part way through and broken off, making an opening 10x12 inches, big enough to allow a man of ordinary size to crowd through. The prisoners have been pormitted to fasten one end of a blanket to the upper corridor railing and the other end to a window bar, using the blanket for a hammook. The blankets were up this morning on both sides. On the west side the blanket reached the window where the sawing was done. Out of the window hanging on the outside of the jail half way to the ground was a blanket rope nicely plated. By means of the blanket hammook on the inside the four men reached the hole in the window and then dropped to the ground from the end of the prisoners had been given their breakfast; all were in jail at that time, and John Perl, the turnkey, was out in the office attending to his duties. He heard his dog barking in the passageway between the jail and the new court house. John stepped to the office door and looked out. As he stepped on the stone landing the turnkey saw Francis drop to the ground from the end of the rope. Johnny did not have a revolver but nevertheless he hurried down the steps and chased Francis through the court house, across Water street and into the Chrie Brown lot. Francis ran as if the whele town was after him and outfooted the turnkey, who in trying to get over the fence into th coted the turnkey, who in trying to get over the fence into the Culp wagon yard stumbled over a box and lost to the turnkey, who in trying to get to over the feace into the Only wagon yard at tumbled over a hox and lost valuable time. When Perl got into the alley Francis had dienppeared. Then it coursed to Johnny that there was a big hole in the jail, and es there was no one at the prison except his mother to prevent further escapes, he hurried back to the jail and with a double barrel shot gun stood gnard until Sheriff Perl came to the prison. Members of the police force also arrived, togother with a great crowd of people who filled the sheriff gut in his rig and drove off to assist in the chase, and did not return until after Francis had been caught and put in a cell. Meantime all of the prison and a close watch kept on their movements through the peep hole in the sheriff's private office. Johnny Perl and Joe Murphey stood guard with guns and revolvers.

CAPTURE OF FRANCIS.

When Tom Francis get into the alley he jumped the fence and ran into E. E. Potter's dwelling house on South Main street, going into the open Iront door and up the stairway, secreting himself in a small closet. Mrs. Potter, who keeps roomers, was down stairs. Among the boarders is Mrs. Goodwin, who on going to her room discovered a man in the closet. She came down and informed Mrs. Potter, who had in the meantime been informed of the secape from the jail. She at once divined that the man in the closet was one of the men wanted, and she closed the front door. tematic search was made for the body belonging to the head. Twenty-five or thirty men engaged in the search, and searched the place for a distance of three miles around, but at no place could the body be found. The railroad track was closely inspected, and every secret place where a body might be hidden was searched without success. The mystery this formsnoon was as impenetrable as it was lust eight.

It is the opinion of the coroner that the man expired about ten days ago. the man expired about ten days szo. The head is covered with gray hair five inches long, but the features cannot be recognized. The neck appears to have been torn from the body, and the flesh at the back is not decomposed.

Further search will be made for the holy. the man in the closed was one of the men wanted, and she closed the front door, calling to the man in the street to come and gat him. The man was Francis. He heard Mrs. Potter call for help, and stood at the closes door appealing to her to let him go. "No you don't," called back the courageous woman to the trembling burglar, and she held the door Dien – At St. Mary's Hospital, Sunday, September 4th, 1892, at 4:45 p. m., Robert Green, in the 66th year of his age. It was expected, because in a Missouri church paper a week ago Rev. Cake stated that he would be open to engagements in Missouri after November 1st.

Rev. Cake has not had smooth sailing since he has been in Decatur. Veteran members of the congregation left the church occause they believed the minister was not preaching the gospel. No doubt the resignation will be accepted.

Rev. Cake is a candidate for congress. It is not likely that be banks very heavily on going to Washington, since he has notified the Missouri people that he is ready to come back if they want him. Chicago, September 5.—Labor Day was observed in all large cities. In Chicago 30,000 men paraded; 20,000 in New York, 10,000 in Brooklyn and 7,000 in St. Louis. Business was suspended almost every where.

THE SEAT OF WAR lews by Telegraph Will be Ro

ceived at the St. Nick Exchange

Tommy Andrews will keep open house to night at the St. Nicholas Exchange to receive the full report of the Myer-Mc-Auliffe prize fight by wire direct from New Orleans. There will be a telegraph operator in the exchange, and as the wire is on the associated press line, the news will come thick and fast and be promptly posted so that everybody who call will be informed promptly as to the progress of the fight by rounds.

Similar reports will be received by

DRPRICE'S

Now is the time to buy them, and we want to especially recommend John Mundell's Solar Tip Shoes. They will outwear several ordinary shoes for the reason that the sole leather is brought up and bent over in front making it almost impossible to wear the shoe out at the toe. These shoes are in goat, grain and dengela stock and are just what is wanted for school wear. We are exclusive agents for them, own them cheaper than any retailer can, and can sell them for the least money.

N. B. Our big Summer sale of shoes is still going on and the Bargains are the greatest ever known in the shoe business in this country.

Here's What the Plasterers Think of ROCK PLASTER.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely be informed promptly as to the progress of the fight by rounds.

Similar reports will be received by Andrews at the same place Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Sullivan and Corbett are to go against each other Wednesday night.

Will remove a not inconsiderable amount of oursiness, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plactors on the same footing as that occurbusiness of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupled by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

How IT WAS DONE.

When Marshal Mason and John Brockway put Miller and Francis in jail it was kept on the trial. Some days ago the prisoners told the sheriff that they would not be here for the trial. Some days ago the prisoners were caught sawing the bars with saws made out of the steel sharks of shoes, and the saws were removed. Still a close watch was kept on Miller and Town who, althought.
